

Welcome

A Warm Welcome

Thank you for visiting the site and for using Demscape on your dementia journey.

The site has been a massive labour of love and was inspired by personal experiences of caring for someone with Dementia - My Nana Rose. Please read her story on the website as some of it may be similar to your own experiences.

We really want Demscape to be the first stop on your journey and a friendly, safe space for you to visit.

We hope you enjoy your visit!
Take care

What matters to you?

As this is the first edition we want to understand what you want to read about or see in future newsletters. We aim to provide:

- Up-to-date news on research
- Hints and Tips for carers
- Upcoming news on dementia
- How you can get support
- Your stories

If you wish to provide feedback on future editions or share your story, please email or contact us using the information on the contact us page at:
